Association of Information Governance Professionals

The Association of Information Governance Professionals (AIGP) is a not for profit organisation designed to support the work and training of all those employed in the diverse areas that make up the fields of Information Governance.

The aims and objectives of AIGP are to further career development and training, establish best practice, encourage networking and to act as representative voice for the interests of all IG Professionals.

Membership is open to those working in information governance in both the public and private sectors throughout the United Kingdom. It is currently open and unconditional, with no membership fees, qualifications, experience or skills basis. It is hoped that from this the initial group will go on to develop a more formal Association as the membership grows.

By joining the Association you will help put in place a support mechanism that is particular to your role in Information Governance
